THE GOODWIN FAMILIES IN AMERICA.

By Judge John S. Goodwin.

The Goodwins were among the very first of the English-speaking people to come to America. As the late Mr. Charles Francis Goodwin, of Brookville, Indiana, expressed it, "The Goodwins have always been here. It is still an open question whether the Indians or the Goodwins were the original inhabitants!"

Not only were they here at an early date, but the earliest ones were in Virginia. While some of those mentioned below did not leave families, their names are included, that the honor of priority may be given them. The years and names are as follows, and they thoroughly upset the "three-brothers" theory:

1607–'14.—Samuel Goodwin; was massacred at Jamestown.

1620.—Sir Francis Goodwin was a member of the Virginia Company. He died in England.

1620.—Reinold Goodwin, born in 1590, came to Elizabeth City county in The Abigail in 1620, and was living in 1624. Untraced.

1624.—Robert Goodwin, born in 1605, came to Elizabeth City county in The Swan in 1624. Untraced.

1632.—William and Ozias Goodwin, brothers, settled eventually in Hartford, Connecticut. A genealogy of this family has been published,* and it is the desire to trace its English origin—a matter which has, so far, eluded the most diligent search—which has led Mr. James J. Goodwin to preserve, with the intention of publishing, all Goodwin data found by Mr. Waters in his search for the English family of the Hartford Goodwins.

1633.—Christopher Goodwin settled in Charlestown, Massachusetts. Two manuscript records of this family are in existence.

The Goodwins of Hartford, Connecticut;* compiled for James J. Goodwin, Hartford, Conn.

1635.—John Goodwin, November 20, 1635, was one of the "head rights" with William Wilkinson, and settled in Lynnhaven, Lower Norfolk, Virginia. Untraced.

1635.—Alexander Goodwin and Daniel Godwin, November 26, 1635, with eighteen others, were granted 1,250 acres in the county of Charles City, Virginia. Untraced.

1640.—Devereux Godwin or Goodwin settled in Old Kent, Maryland, and was a prominent man for many years, but no trace of his descendants has been found, except a son, Devorax Goodwin, Jr. Perhaps some of the Maryland families descend from him.

1648.—Major James Goodwin settled in York county, Virginia. His family and descendants are subjects of this sketch.

1652.—Daniel Goodwin settled in Kittery, York county, Maine, and his descendants are legion. Captain William F. Goodwin was engaged in compiling a genealogy of this family at the time of his death, in 1872. It is probable that it will be published at an early date.

1660.—Richard Goodwin married in 1666 in Essex Co., Massachusetts. This family is very numerous in the New England States. It is probably an offshoot of the Goodwins of Torrington, county Devon, England.

1660.—Edward Goodwin, of Essex county, Massachusetts, was the ancestor of a large family.

1700.—Rev. Benjamin Goodwin settled in Gloucester county, Virginia. His descendants, if any, are untraced.

1700–1800.—During this century a number of Goodwin families were established in the New England States, and in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, the Carolinas, and Georgia. In the search for the ancestry of Thomas Goodwin, data of all of these families have been gathered and preserved. None of them appear to be related to Major James Goodwin, and more detailed mention is not made of them at this time.

An Unsolved Problem.

In 1789, at Old Fort, now Brownsville, Fayette county, Pennsylvania, Samuel Goodwin, eldest son of Thomas Goodwin, Jr., was born. The yet unsuccessful attempt to trace the lineage of this family (Appendix A) has resulted in the gathering of all the data included in this publication, and, in fact, of almost complete records of all the Goodwin families in America.

MAJOR JAMES GOODWIN settled in York county, Virginia, but had land grants in Westmoreland county. Three of his sons are practically untraced. An hypothesis is suggested, that perhaps one or more of the sons and grandsons of Major James Goodwin went to Westmoreland county, crossed the river to St. Mary's and Calvert counties, Maryland, and that their descendants gradually worked northward with the tide of immigration into northern Maryland and southern Pennsylvania, and then westward along the trail which became the old National Road, and then, following the water courses, became, with their descendants, the pioneers of the great Ohio Valley.

Whether descendants of Major James or of Devereux Goodwin, or of other, and as yet unknown, immigrant ancestors, it appears that Old Fort, in western Pennsylvania, was the "storm centre." It was situated on the Redstone River, a tributary to one of the great branches of the Ohio River; and in those early days the river current was the most rapid conveyance. Concentred, then, within a circle of the radius of scarcely fifty miles, touching Maryland, Virginia (now West Virginia), and Pennsylvania, and having Old Fort for its centre, we find not less than nine families of Goodwins, none of them yet able to trace their original source. These families were:

1st. THOMAS GOODWIN, Jr., born in 1767, who, in 1788 or 1789, came along "the trail" with his bride; stayed for a few years at Old Fort, and then, with his young family and his household belongings, floated down the Ohio River to Cincinnati, and eventually settled at Brookville, Indiana, and became the ancestor of the GOODWINS OF BROOKVILLE. Appendix A.

2nd. AARON GOODWIN, born in 1753, but about whose place of birth his descendants differ, some claiming Hartford, Connecticut, but others, with perhaps better reason, laying the place in Virginia, removed from Virginia to the Cumberland Valley in Maryland, where he married; and in 1790, with his wife and family, he followed the exact footprints of Thomas, Jr., but without stopping long at Old Fort, and by flatboats went to Maysville, Kentucky, and eventually settled in Washington, Indiana, where he died in 1828, leaving descendants, mentioned in Appendix B.

3rd. JOHN GOODWIN, whose history prior to the time he was living near Wheeling, West Virginia, is wholly unknown as yet, removed, with part of his family, down the Ohio River, settling in Kentucky; but at least three of his sons afterward removed from near Wheeling and from Kentucky to Indiana; and his descendants are traced in Appendix D.

4th. SETH GOODWIN is said to have been born in Germany, and to have settled in York county, Pennsylvania, where he had sons JOHN, in 1796, and WILLIAM, and then removed to Washington county; and John and some of his children went to Greene county, across the river from Fayette. It is to be noted that John Goodwin, next above mentioned, had a son Seth of the same age as this Seth, and further investigation may combine this family with that of John Goodwin. It is, however, treated separately in Appendix E.

5th. JOSEPH GOODWIN, whose wife was born in Delaware, settled in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, about 1796, and his first son, Daniel, was born in 1800. His fourth son, William, "returned to Baltimore," and was killed by a fall while working on a public building.

6th. JOHN GOODWIN, brother of Joseph, and both sons of John Goodwin, Sr., settled "over the line," in West Virginia. This family is given in Appendix C.

7th. JOHN GOODWIN was born in Montgomery county, Maryland, in 1762. He served in Capt. William Lowther's company, of Virginia, from 1778 to 1780, and in Capt. Joseph Gregory's company, of Virginia, until 1782. He was pensioned in 1833, and then resided in Harrison county, (West) Virginia, having enlisted from Harrison county in 1778. See Appendix F.

8th. JAMES GOODWIN, private of the thirtieth Maryland, a soldier in the Revolutionary War, had land grant for fifty acres, number 1,784, which was located on a tract of land now called "Cherry Tree Valley," about seven miles north of Oakland, the county seat of Garrett county, Maryland; but James permitted the land to escheat to the State. Thomas Goodwin, Jr., is said to have had a brother James who went west.

9th. EDWARD GOODWIN resided near Simpson, in Taylor county, West Virginia. His son Gabriel was born about 1810. He was brother to John, mentioned in the 7th paragraph. See Appendix F.

The chief trouble found in tracing these families is that records were kept only of dates of birth, and not of places. They were pioneers, and their homes were "regions," "valleys," "districts," the name covering vast territories. Their old home ties were slight, and the life which they lived permitted them to dwell but little in the past. They were, as a rule, stern, silent men, always confronted with dangers, always with hardships; and their descendants know but little about them and their kin.

YORK COUNTY, VIRGINIA, GOODWINS.

The pedigree entered in the Visitation of London for 1633, and the abstracts of wills published in The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vols. XLVII. and XLVIII., of Robert Goodwin, Peter Goodwin, and John Pigot, show the following:

HENRY, of Buckinghamshire, had issue: ROBERT, who married Jane, the daughter of Anthony Dollin, of Henalt, in Flanders. Issue: PETER, a salter,* of Tower-Street Ward, London, who married Sarah, daughter of John Hillard, alias Highlord, of London, merchant. Issue: 1, Gertrude, who married, 1st, John Pigot, of London, merchant, who died in 1639; 2dly, Maurice Abbott, Esq.; 2, Susanna, who married ——— Stone; 3, Elizabeth, who married John Osborne; 4, Sarah, who married Wm. Elwood; 5, John, deceased before his father; 6, Mathew, eldest son in 1661, to whom his father gave his dwelling-house in "St. Margaret Patternes," in or near Tower street; 7, Peter; 8, James, "youngest son." The will of PETER GOODWIN was dated October 28, 1661, and was proved December 17, 1661, by the oath of James Goodwin, his son, one of the executors, power being reserved for Mathew and Peter, the other executors, etc. [So far the English authorities.]

In the early records of York county, Va., preserved at Yorktown (a copy of which, down to the year 1700, is in the State Library), the name of a James Goodwin appears as an early justice, with the title of major. He was justice from 1657 to 1662, and in 1658 he represented his county in the House of Burgesses. He lived on Back Creek. The identity of this James with the James of the English pedigrees is shown by two things: First, By the names of his children, which repeat the family names of the English people;

*The introduction to the Visitation of Shropshire in 1623, published by the "Harleian Society," contains an interesting account of the practice of the Heralds' College and the distinctions in society: "The simple state of society in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries did not draw lines of demarcation at retail trades; great foreign merchants, such as we have now, had not yet been developed. War as a profession for younger sons had ceased; also the custom of attaching them to the suites of the greater nobility; and the consequence was, that they could only enter the learned professions, or be apprenticed to some ordinary retail trade, and so become members of one of these guilds; thus we find that the younger sons of extensive estates became tradesmen in the neighboring towns, and did not thereby cease to be members of the country gentry." So Peter Goodwin, in being a salter, did not cease to be a gentleman; and it was he who recorded his pedigree and arms with the Heralds' College in 1633.

and Second, By the fact that the York county books show that Major James Goodwin was present in York county on November 13, 1660, and that he reached England before April 30, 1661.* This would indicate that he returned to England after hearing of his father's death, and was present to swear to his father's will December 17, 1660. There was, between the date of the will and its proof in court, an interval of fifty days, which would have given time for the transmission of the news of Peter Goodwin's death to Virginia and for Major Goodwin's return and appearance in England. At the same time, the margin is not wide enough for us to suppose that his being in England about this time was the result of an accident.

Assuming this connection as proved, JAMES GOODWIN married, 1st, Rachel ———, whose tombstone on Back Creek, York county, Va., says that she was born in 1630, and died May 23, 1666, leaving, as it states, by Major Goodwin, five sons and two daughters. The tombstone bears an "impalement," by which is meant a division of the shield into two equal parts; the right, or dexter, representing the husband, and the left, or sinister, representing the wife. The right side in this case is too much worn to make out, but the left is divided quarterly; one and four, a bend; two and three, three bars. This quartering ought to give the names of the father and mother of Rachel Goodwin. Now, among those for whom Major Goodwin got "head rights," besides Mrs. Blanche Parry, Mrs. Ann Gooch, Robert Goodwin, John Goodwin, and "myself and wife," was one John Porter; and "three bars or" are the arms of Porter of County Warwick, England. With great confidence, then, it might be assumed that the mother of Rachel Goodwin was a Porter.† The other two quarters, containing each a bend, are too general for identification. Captain Gooch is called "brother" by Major James Goodwin; and Henry Gooch was, in 1660, the husband of Milicent Kinsey, widow of Robert Kinsey.

*In the York county records is the following:

"30th April, 1661. Capt. Henry Gooch and Mr. Robert Baldry are added to the Commission of Yorke County, and to be sworne at ye next Court, in the places of Coll. Xtopher Calthorpe & Majr. James Goodwin, who are removed, one to ye Eward, ye other for England. Wm. BERKELEY."

†Off the mouth of the creek, near the tombstone, is an island still known as Goodwin's Island, which Samuel Chew deeded to James Goodwin. There is a lighthouse at the extreme point, called "Too's Point Lighthouse." Perhaps "Too's Point" is a corruption for "Chew's Point."

Henry Gooch,* who was also a magistrate of York county, Va., was manager of the estate of Major William Gooch, Esq., member of the Council, whose tomb is at "Temple Farm," where Cornwallis surrendered. This latter, who seems to have been an uncle of Governor William Gooch, and who died in 1655, left a daughter Ann, who married Captain Thomas Beale, of York and Richmond counties. Probably Ann Gooch, mentioned among Major Goodwin's head rights, was the wife of William Gooch and the mother of Anne Beale.

After the death of Rachel, Major James Goodwin married, 2dly, Blanche ———, probably Mrs. Blanche Parry, mentioned above. He died intestate, and his inventory was recorded January 6, 167$\frac{8}{9}$, showing £542 1*s.* 2*d.* On January 25, 169$\frac{1}{2}$, John and Peter Goodwin petitioned for their shares of their father's estate in the hands of their "mother-in-law" (step-mother), Mrs. Blanche Goodwin, and in the following month settlement was made with "seven children and y^{e} widow." In 1687 Mrs. Blanche Goodwin had given property to her "sons," John and Peter Goodwin, and daughter Susannah. Her will was proved September 22, 1701, and names sons Robert and Martin as executors; daughter, Elizabeth Blinkhorn; and grandchildren, James and Elizabeth Duke. Matthew Goodwin witnessed a deed from Peter to Martin in 1701.

Robert Goodwin (James) was married before 1696 to Anne ——. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in Hampton parish, York county, Va., and in 1696 Robert was grantee in a deed from Peter Goodwin, the witnesses being John, Matthew, and Martin. A Robert was mentioned in 1711 as being one of the patrons of a private school. Anne Goodwin was permitted to keep an ordinary in 1715. A few years later she had married Joseph Frith, and was devisee of her son Martin, deceased, one of the orphan children of Robert Goodwin, deceased.

Elizabeth Doswell Goodwin was a small woman with light hair and blue eyes. Great strength of character, blended with sweetness of disposition, made her firm in discharge of duty and easy of approach. Besides attending to her own large family, she and "Uncle Littleton" always had room for the orphan children of both families. She was the "lady of the manor" in the age in which she lived in her vicinity, and was especially kind to the poor. In cases of sickness she would send dainties to them by her black servants, prettily arranged on a silver waiter, much to the disgust of the "blacks," who thought it all nonsense for "Miss Betsy to be sending dem t'ings to dem low down po' white trash." But her idea was to "elevate those in a lower social scale." During the late war, one family thus served for generations, came to the rescue of her son and grandchildren when left impoverished entirely without luxury and almost without necessities. Thus "bread on the water returneth after many days."

Her mother, Sarah Coghill, used to say, "We're next in coat of arms to the king," and tell of an old satin cloak, yellow lined with pale green.

One of the grandmothers fought a British officer away from Oakley, Caroline county (P. O. Paige), with a linen table cloth, just as it was saturated by the laundress.

Oakley contains an old saddle on which one of the Goodwins used to ride to Yorktown. Notwithstanding its extreme age, it is in a good state of preservation.

The tankard, which was marked with the Goodwin coat of arms, was buried in three wars—Revolution, 1812, and the late war—each time with money in it. Miss Mary Goodwin, of Fredericksburg, Va., sold it just after the war for bread, she said. She was condemned by many for not offering it to members of the family instead of selling to a stranger; but she was too proud to let them know her necessity. I know of no one who can give a description of it.

Sarah (Minor) Goodwin died September 19, 1852, in Louisa county; Harwood Goodwin died August, 1859, in Orange county.

My grandfather, Harwood Goodwin, was one of the most original characters I ever knew. He had no confidence in anything professional. Perfectly truthful himself, his word was as good as his bond. There were very few in whom he had any faith, though, to their credit be it said, in the other two members of his household, his wife and invalid daughter, he reposed implicit confidence. He was certainly an incongruous mixture of opposites. He was perfectly honest and just in all his dealings. His moral character was unimpeachable. Charitable in deed, he was uncharitable in word; harsh in speech, considerate and tender in action; severely critical of any deviation from the path of rectitude, yet always ready to help the transgressor. Perfectly honorable, an Israelite in whom there was no guile, and yet an unbeliever who feared not God nor respected man. His consideration for the females of his family was very beautiful. His wife was a cripple, his daughter an invalid of many years' standing. To save them from all annoyance and to minister to their slightest wants was the object and end of his existence. Never did I see self so completely laid aside; every wish was gratified that he ever heard them express. His daughter died first, and then his devotion centered itself on his wife. For years it seemed as if she might be spared as long as he was, but a sudden attack of apoplexy carried her off, and thenceforward his occupation was gone; he had nothing to live for. Her work-basket he kept by him, in it a cork-soled shoe that assisted her lameness; while her last words he constantly repeated, "Lay me down." He told me people thought he was in his dotage, but that though his memory might fail, he never wished to forget the last words he heard her speak. He died in 1860.

TO THE MEMORY OF HARWOOD GOODWIN.

"The friend of God, man's friend aright,
Stern enemy of lies,
Has gone to place his record bright
Before adoring skies.

"His keen blue eye of lightning flash,
Oft rent the bigot's veil,
And gave the flimsy web as trash
To every passing gale.

"Dull canting soul, thy tongue becurb,
For him thou needst not weep;
Be still, and dare not to disturb
The moral giant's sleep.

"Sleep on, thou rarity of earth,
Deep silence round thee reign,
Till sounds omnipotent in birth
Wake thee to life again."

dispose of such estate, which has pleased Almighty God to bless me with, do make and ordain this my last will and testament in manner and form following, imprimis:

I lend to my tender and beloved wife, Jane Goodwin, during her natural life the tract of land I purchased of Major John Cratchfield, also the tract of land I purchased of Capt. Robert Barrett. I also lend her during her natural life my part of water mill. I likewise lend her all my household and kitchen furniture, and all the plantation tools where I now live. I also lend her $\frac{2}{3}$ of my slaves except twelve, namely, Ned, Squire, Jamey, Nancy, Moses, Reubin, Frank, David, Lewis, Esther, Silvey, and Paul.

I also give my beloved wife Jane my certificates of every kind to pay taxes with, and the balance of them, if any at her death, to be given or disposed of among my children as she thinks proper. I also lend her a pair of cart wheels, 25 head of cattle, 30 head of hogs, all my sheep, 2 work horses, and a riding horse. I also lend her my stall during her natural life.

Items: I give to my son Hugh that tract of land and that gold mine I purchased of Col. Wm. Johnson. I also give him one negro boy, Moses, and the black Cott, to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

Items: I give to my son Robert the tracts of land I purchased of Major John Cratchfield and Capt. Robert Barrett, which land I have lent to my wife during her natural life, also one negro boy named Frank, to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

Items: I give to my son John Chapman the tract of land that was given to me by my father, except 50 acres, being on the north side of the river; also I give my said son my part of the water mill at the death of my wife; also I give my said son one negro boy named Reubin, to him, his heirs and assigns forever.

Items: I give to son Archibald Tulloch 50 acres of land on the north side of Little River; it is a part of a tract given to me by my father. Also I give to my said son Archibald Tulloch 150 acres of land I purchased of Robert Garland; also I give my said son one negro boy named Ned, to him, his heirs and assigns forever. It is my will that if Robert Garland should refuse to make my son Archibald Tulloch a good and lawful right when required to the said 150 acres of land, then in that case I give to my said son Archibald Tulloch one hundred and ten pounds in lieu of this 150 acres of land; but if this Robert Garland should make my son Archibald Tulloch a good and lawful title to this 150 acres of land, then it is my will and desire that my executors do pay to the said Robert Garland one hundred and ten pounds.

Items: It is my will and desire to make all my sons as equal as I can, and to effect which I desire that the land, mills and moneys given to my sons Hugh, Robert, John Chapman and Archibald Tulloch be valued, and those whose lands, including mills and moneys, are most valuable shall pay to the others whose land, including mills and moneys, are least valuable, so much as the judgment of men shall be just and right to make their estate given them as nearly equal as possible.

Items: I give to my daughter Elizabeth Garland Coleman four negroes, viz.: Susie, Jane and her child Nancy, and Poll, to her heirs forever.

Items: I give to my daughter Mary two negroes, viz.: Esther and David, and one hundred and ten pounds, to be paid to her when she comes of age or marries; to her heirs and assigns forever.

Items: I give to my daughter Barbara two negroes, viz.: Silvey and Lewis, and also one hundred and ten pounds, to be paid to her when she comes of age or marries; to her assigns forever.

Items: It is my will and desire that, if in the judgment of disinterested men I have given my daughter Coleman before and by this will more than I have given my daughters Mary and Barbara, in that case my desire is that my daughters, Mary and Barbara, do have in that division of my estate as much more than my daughter Coleman, as they have been supposed to have had less given them by this will.

Items: It is my will and desire that all the rest of my estate, both real and personal not heretofore given by this will, be equally divided among my seven (7) children, viz.: Hugh, Robert, John Chapman, Archibald Tulloch, Elizabeth Garland Coleman, Mary and Barbara.

Items: It is my will and desire that the balance of the stock of any kind, and utensils not lent to my wife, be sold to pay off a part of the money.

Items: It is my will and desire that the negroes lent to my wife, at her death be equally divided among my said seven children, Hugh, Robert, John Chapman, Archibald Tulloch, Elizabeth G. Coleman, Mary and Barbara, or their heirs lawfully begotten.

Lastly, I do constitute and appoint my beloved wife, Jane Goodwin, executrix, Mr. Spencer Coleman and my son Hugh, executors to this my last will and testament, in confirmation whereof I have hereunto fixed my hand and seal this 9th day of May, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-nine (1789).

I, John C. Goodwin, of the county of Louisa and State of Virginia, do hereby make this my last will and testament in the manner and form following, that is to say:

I desire that my beloved wife, Anna R. Goodwin, have possession during her natural life of the land on which I now reside, lying together on the south side of Little River, and likewise the Colby tract of land which I purchased of David Bulloch; and to have like possession of what slaves she may think proper, except those she may dispose of in the allotment hereinafter mentioned. It is my desire that my said wife have possession of what money I may die possessed after paying my just debts; also my entire stock of horses, hogs, sheep, cattle, crops, plantation, utensils, household and kitchen furniture.

I give to my daughter, Frances I., the following slaves, to-wit: Billy, age thirty-five years; Hannah, thirty; Mariah, sixteen; Matilda, fourteen; Martin, twelve; Pleasant, eight; Delphin, five; Peter, three.

I give to my son, William T., the following slaves, to-wit: Mitchell, age twenty years; Nancy, eighteen; Silvia, fourteen; Daniel, eleven; Katy, two, and Dorcas, a child which has fallen to my grandson, Edmond Pendleton Goodwin; and inasmuch as he, by the death of his father, fell heir to a larger portion of property than I shall be able to give my own children, I have, therefore, thought proper not to give him anything more.

I have deeded to my son, John C. Goodwin, the tract of land on which he resides, valued at $2,400, and the following slaves: Elijah, age twenty years; Caroline, eighteen; Abram, ten; Susan, eighteen months old; Scipio, fifty-nine, and Lucy, fifty-one.

I give to my daughter, Mary Ann, the following slaves, to-wit: Henry, age eighteen years; Patsey, thirty; Lucy, twenty; Polly, thirteen; Washington, eleven; Rachel, thirteen; Eliza, six, and Janie, one.

I have deeded to my son, Jam.. .., the tract of land on which he resides, valued at $2,400, and the following slaves, to-wit: Lewis, age fifty years; Fanny, thirty-five; Frederick, nineteen; Mary, eleven; Addison, ten.

It is my will and desire that each of my two youngest daughters, Mildred B. and Maria E., when they become of age or marry, shall, out of the slaves which I leave my wife in possession of, have an allotment of the same description as my two daughters already married; and if said allotment cannot be made out of each of said shares, I desire it shall be made up to them in money, sufficient to make out an allotment of the same description, that is to say: They are to have enough money out of my estate to purchase a like description of property. It is also my desire that each of said daughters shall have the amount of $200 in stock and household furniture.

It is my desire that my son, Charles Q., shall have the tract of land which I purchased of Samuel A. Soles, and enough of the Hart tract to make it equal to the lands of my two sons, John C. Goodwin and James R., and likewise an allotment of negroes of the same description of each of theirs, and if such cannot be made out of those in my wife's possession, I wish him to have sufficient money out of my estate to purchase such, and $200 in stock and furniture.

The balance of my land on the north side of Little River, after making out an allotment to my son, Charles Q., I desire to be sold; and whereas I estimate that the allotment to each of my said sons is worth $900 more than that to each of my daughters, I desire the proceeds of said land to be applied as to make them equal. If there should be any more than enough to make these equal, I wish it equally divided between all of the above named children, and if not enough, I wish it made up from the sale of such perishable property as my wife can spare, or by money on hand.

At the death of my wife, I wish all the property and money she may die possessed of to be equally divided among the above named children now living.

It is also my wish that my beloved wife have like possession of the two small pieces of land which I purchased of William H. Howe and Dunmore Harris as she has of the lands mentioned above.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal, the 13th day of August, 1841. JNO. C. GOODWIN [seal].

Solomon A. Guy,
Wm. W. Anderson.

I give to my son, Charles Q. Goodwin, the Sole tract and the Hart tract of land, to make his tract equal with his brothers. JNO. C. GOODWIN.

Also Robinson, Henry, Sinthy, Patsey, and two children, Fannie and Scot.

March 3, 1845.

I give to my daughter Ellen, Cloe and her two youngest children; also Betty, John, Elizabeth, and Lucy. JNO. C. GOODWIN.

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX A.

The Goodwins of Brookville, Indiana.

From his earliest recollection the writer had understood that he belonged to the F. F. V.'s, but when about ten years ago he attempted to grow a family tree he found it impossible to verify the claim. Resorting to the oldest living member of the family, Mrs. Mary (Goodwin) Marlatt, born 1809, and residing in Brookville, he found her unable to give the place of her father's birth, but she did know that his father was Thomas Goodwin, Sen., and that her father had brothers and sisters. Of these she had seen one when she was a small child who had come on horseback with a young son to visit her father. The name of the brother or of his son was James. She remembered only one question asked by the brother, and that was, how his brother, her father, had so soon spent the inheritance received from his father's estate. An appeal has been made to every Goodwin whose name and address could be secured for his own family data, hoping in this way to find eventually some of the descendants of the brothers, but so far without success. At the same time an attempt has been made to trace the descendants of all immigrant Goodwins past the year 1767, hoping to find record of a Thomas born in 1767, the son of Thomas, Sen. This also has so far failed of results. In the meantime the search continues, and all the data obtained is carefully preserved. From this collection is taken what appears here relating to the Goodwins of Virginia. It is perhaps needless to say that any information relating to the ancestry of Thomas of 1767 will be most gratefully received, and all other Goodwin data will be carefully preserved and prepared for publication, if sent to John S. Goodwin, 304 The Temple, Chicago.

Thomas Goodwin, born about 1730–1740; was married twice, but had no children by his second wife. By occupation he was a farmer and slave-owner, and in religion a Quaker. He resided probably in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, or Virginia.

His granddaughter, Mrs. Marlatt, thinks he resided in Maryland and removed to Pennsylvania after his second marriage, as Catherine Rees, wife of Thomas, Jr., knew her husband's father and step-mother but not his own mother. He was a man of property and of education. His estate was probated, but it is not yet known where. The most plausible theory at this time is that some of the sons or grandsons of Major James Goodwin went north from York county into Westmoreland county, and then across into Maryland and north into Pennsylvania, and were the ancestors of Thomas. Children: i. Thomas, born April 27, 1767; married Catherine Rees: ii. James (?), married, and had at least one son living in 1815–'20.

Thomas Goodwin (Thomas), born April 27, 1767; was married about 1788 to Catherine Rees, born October 7, 1767, a daughter of David and Lydia (—) Rees, who were born in Wales. By occupation he was a farmer and inn-keeper, and in politics a Whig. But little is known of his residence before his marriage. He was a stern, uncommunicative man, well educated for a pioneer, writing a very perfect hand, a great reader, and much given to solitude and forest hunting. Whether there was a family estrangement is not known, but he was a man in whom the milk of human kindness had soured. He held himself aloof from his neighbors, and kept in advance of the wave of immigration. He was married about 1788, and Lancaster, Penn., seems to have been the place of marriage or else the birth-place of his wife, who was a Philadelphia (?) "school marm" before marriage and taught for a number of years after marriage. She often spoke of having seen Washington when she was a child. She had brothers, Hezekiah and David, and sisters, Lydia and Lucretia (married Mr. Alexander and had son, Samuel), and also other sisters, from whom she inherited silver with monograms A. F. and I. H. D. or I. D. H. She had a brother and a brother-in-law killed in the Revolutionary War. Wherever this Rees family lived at the time of her marriage was the home of Thomas Goodwin at that time. After marriage they went along what was afterwards known as the Old National Road to Old Fort, now Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa. They remained there for several years and then removed to Cincinnati. Thence they went to near Dayton, Ohio, returning to Franklin, Ohio, where they resided until about 1830. At this place Thomas' brother visited him before 1820, and one of his father's former slaves lived near and often worked for the family.

Leaving Franklin they settled in Brookville, Ind., where their eldest son Samuel had gone in 1816, and remained there until their deaths. Catherine (Rees) Goodwin died July 5, 1844, and Thomas Goodwin, Jr., died May 5, 1848. Children: i. Samuel, born April 12, 1789; married, 1st, Eunice Pearson; 2d, Mrs. Eleanor (Wiles) Moon; ii. Hezekiah Rees, born November 19, 1791; married Lydia Ligett; iii. William, born June 1, 1795; drowned on trip to New Orleans, 1815; iv. James, born October 22, 1797; died unmarried; v. Lydia, born August 9, 1800; killed by fall from horse in 1815; vi. Elizabeth, born November 9, 1806; married George Kepler; vii. Mary (Polly), born April 30, 1809; married James Marlatt.

Samuel Goodwin (Thomas, Thomas), born April 12, 1789, in Old Fort, now Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa.; was married, 1st, at Lebanon, Ohio, to Eunice Pearson, born in 1796, and died in Lebanon in 1814. Samuel Goodwin was married, 2nd, March 19, 1815, at Lebanon to Mrs. Eleanor (Wiles) Moon, who was born October 24, 1789, in Baltimore, Md., a daughter of John and Eleanor (McKinley) Wiles. She was born while her mother was on a visit from Pennsylvania to "her people." Her mother's parents were Rodger and Eleanor (Shaw) McKinley, who, with his father, James McKinley, born 1708 in Ireland, afterwards settled near Lebanon, Ohio, where James McKinley died in 1812, aged 104 years. The next year after their marriage Samuel and Eleanor settled in Brookville, Ind., where they remained the rest of their lives. They resided in the town, but owned farm lands adjoining. Mr. Goodwin was also a tanner, and made a voyage or two to New Orleans. They were strong Methodists, and their home was always open to the travelling preacher. When the Methodists were preparing to establish the Indiana Asbury (now De Pauw) University at Greencastle, Samuel Goodwin purchased the first perpetual scholarship sold and sent the first student from out of town. He gave every son a college education, and two of them became presidents of universities afterward, while his wife's nephew, Dr. J. P. D. John, was, until his recent resignation, for many years president of De Pauw. Samuel Goodwin died June 26, 1851. Eleanor (Wiles) Goodwin died May 18, 1873. Children by second wife: i. Eunice, born July 20, 1817; died September 6, 1817; ii. Thomas Aiken, born November 2, 1818; married Content Lucretia Craft; iii. John Reeves, born July 15, 1820; married Rachel Goudie; iv. (Samuel, Thomas, Thomas), born November 2, 1818, in Brookville, Ind.; was married September 13, 1842, at Rising Sun, Ind., to Content Lucretia Craft, born February 26, 1823, a daughter of Caleb A. and Elizabeth (Williams) Craft. (See Craft genealogy, where name is incorrectly given as Gordain). By occupation he was a teacher, editor, and minister, in politics a Republican, and in religion a Methodist. They have resided in Rising Sun, Brookville, and in Indianapolis, Ind., for about forty years. They celebrated their golden wedding in 1892. Thomas A. Goodwin was the first student from out of town at the Indiana Asbury University and valedictorian of the first class, 1840. He was president of the Brookville College, and editor of the Brookville American. He is well known in church circles, and has written a number of books relating to church polity. Children: i. THE GOODWINS OF WASHINGTON COUNTY, INDIANA.

This family followed, as nearly as now known, the exact route taken by the GOODWINS OF BROOKVILLE, but no relationship could be traced by the older members of the family.

Aaron Goodwin was born 1753, in Virginia. He resided, until a young man, in Virginia, removing to the Cumberland Valley, Md., where he married, 1st, Susannah Leasure, and in 1790, with his wife and family, went along the old National Road to Old Fort, now Brownsville, Fayette Co., Pa., and then by flatboats to Maysville, Ky. They afterwards settled at Hinkston station, Ky., where Susannah (Leasure) Goodwin died. Some of their children remained in Kentucky with their mother's people, but others went with Aaron to Champaign Co., Ohio, where, in 1803, he married, 2ndly, Mary Chapman, a daughter of Elijah and Achsah (Burden) Chapman, who had removed to Ohio from Virginia "at a very early day." Aaron Goodwin removed from Kentucky on account of his prejudice against slavery. In 1809 he went with his family to Illinois, finishing his journey at a point about twelve miles east of St. Louis. Deciding, in 1812, to return to Ohio, he stopped, on his return journey, twelve miles north of Princeton, Indiana. Being pleased with the appearance of the country, and winter approaching, he took possession of an abandoned log house, where he remained with his family through the winter, and he then settled half-a-mile north of Washington, Ind., where he remained until his death, which occurred October 26, 1828. APPENDIX C.

THE GOODWINS OF FAYETTE COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

The same road was travelled by the brothers Joseph and John as had been taken by Thomas and Aaron, but they remained in Pennsylvania and Virginia, now West Virginia. They had doubtless started west from Baltimore, or from a neighboring county, but seem not to have been related to the John Goodwin from Montgomery county, Md. (Appendix F.)

John Goodwin was born in Ireland, as were his sons, if the statement of a grandson is to be relied upon. It seems more probable that the sons were born in America, and perhaps their father before them. It is suggested that a complete record of the family of this John Goodwin may show the names of William, James and Thomas in addition to those here given, and that the entire family is of a Virginia-Maryland origin. Children: i. Joseph, born ———; married Martha Greenlee; ii. John.

Joseph Goodwin (John) was born ———, in Maryland (?); was married to Martha Greenlee, who was born in Sussex county, Del. By occupation he was a farmer. They resided in Spring Hill Furnace, Fayette county, Penn., between 1790 and 1800. Their son William is said to have "gone back" to Baltimore, or near there, to work on a public building, and was killed by a fall. In a letter dated March 12, 1893, written by Joseph, Jr., to Mr. John S. Goodwin, the following statements were made: "My father came from Ireland. Your father had six brothers, if you are one of John Goodwin's boys. I am the only one now living, and am the seventh son. Your grandfather was born at Spring Hill Furnace (if you are a grandson of John)." This is the only time John's name is given as a son of Joseph by any of Joseph's descendants. Others dispute there having been a son John, but his brother Joseph should know, and without him Joseph would not be the "seventh son." Children: i. Daniel, born July 22, 1799, married Martha Coale; ii. Robert, born ———; iii. Samuel, born ———, married Nellie Warman; iv. William, born ———, killed in Baltimore, unmarried; v. APPENDIX D.

THE GOODWINS OF WHEELING, WEST VIRGINIA, AND THE GOODWINES OF WARREN COUNTY, INDIANA.

THE history of John Goodwin, who must have been born before 1740, is wholly unknown to his descendants until after his marriage. "He came to Kentucky from Virginia" is the sum total of their knowledge. He may have been a descendant of Major James Goodwin, but it is well to note these things: THOMAS GOODWIN, the ancestor of the GOODWINS OF CHESTER COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, had immigrated by 1708. He was accompanied by his son, Thomas, Jr., born 1694. This son married in 1729, and had seven children, the first being John, and the second, Thomas, tertius. This third Thomas married, and moved over into Virginia, but returned to Chester county, Pa. John, the first son of Thomas, Jr., married Naomi Potter in 1759, and became lost to his family. We may suppose that Naomi died, and that John married, second, a Miss Heddie, of German nationality, and moved through York county to the western part of the State, and across the line into (West) Virginia. A Seth Goodwin was a son of this John of Wheeling, and a Seth Goodwin of "German parentage" (that is, his mother, Heddie, was a German?) lived in York county, Pa. (See Appendix E.)*

The name was changed to "Goodwine" by James, son of John, and it is written "Goodin" by the descendants of another son, not now known which, who accompanied John to Bardstown, Kentucky.

John Goodwin, born before 1740, was married to Miss Heddie. By occupation he was a farmer. They resided near Wheeling, W. Va., and removed to near Bardstown, Ky., where they died. Some of their children remained in Virginia, coming west at a later date. Children: i. William; ii. Abner; iii. John; iv. Thomas; v. Seth (see Appendix E); vi. Heddie; vii. James, born April 20, 1780; married, first, Elizabeth Snyder; second, Mrs. Sarah (Shoemaker) Logan; viii. Lydia, married Isaac Birch; ix. Martha, died unmarried; x. Obadiah (?).

William Goodwin (John) resided near Wheeling, W. Va. He removed to Indiana after his father went to Kentucky, and settled near Lebanon, Boone county, Indiana, where he died, leaving descendants. No reply has been received to any letter sent them.

* This conjecture was submitted to Dr. William H. Egle, Harrisburg, Pa., State Librarian, and a noted genealogist, and he very materially strengthens the supposition that the Seth of York county was son of John Goodwin of Wheeling, W. Va., by answering that the Heddie family is an old York county, Pa., family, of German descent, and that two of the sons, of about the age of the wife of John Goodwin, moved west to around Wheeling, W. Va. It should also be noted that a Moses Goodwin was executor of the will of a Benjamin Taylor in York county in 1753. What relation, if any, he was to this John Goodwin is not known.

Abner Goodwin (John) was born in Virginia. By occupation he was a farmer. He resided near Wheeling until, perhaps, about 1835, when he removed to Ohio, and later to Indiana, finally settling near Greencastle, Putnam county, Ind., where he died about 1848. Children: i. APPENDIX E.

THE GOODWINS OF YORK COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

Whatever the ancestry of JOHN GOODWIN, Appendix D, it seems very probable that his son Seth is the Seth of "German descent" who lived in York county, and that it will be found that the wife of John, Miss Heddie, was of German descent, or, perhaps, born in Germany.

Seth Goodwin was born of "German parentage;" was married and resided in York county, Pa., where he and his wife died, near Little York. Children: i. John, born 1796, married Sally Gardner; ii. William, untraced.

APPENDIX F.

THE GOODWINS OF HARRISON COUNTY, WEST VIRGINIA.

The Pension Office records show that John Goodwin was born in 1762 in Montgomery county, Md., and enlisted from Harrison county, Va., in 1778, aged sixteen. He is said to have had a younger brother Edward, who lived in Harrison county; and it is also asserted that Zadock Goodwin, who married Mary Winters, was not a son of this John. These facts indicate that several brothers, some very young, were living in Harrison county in 1778, and presumably their parents had come with them from Montgomery county, Md. They seem not to have been related to the John and Joseph, Appendix C.

APPENDIX G.

THE GOODWINS OF ST. MARY'S COUNTY, MARYLAND.

This family, starting from St. Mary's county, opposite Westmoreland county, Va., has passed into Northern Maryland, Northeastern Virginia, and then westward into the Central States.

It is suggested that it may be a part of the descendants of Major James Goodwin, who owned land in Westmoreland county.

Thomas Goodwin resided in St. Mary's county, and possibly in Calvert county, Md. Accompanied by his eldest son, name unknown, he sailed for England about 1786, and both were lost at sea. It is a family tradition that Thomas was going to look after some property interests, and that a Bartholomew Goodwin was perhaps an ancestor. Children: i. Son, lost at sea; ii. They resided on their farm in Frederick county, Va., on the Shenandoah River, removing to Prince William county and to Fauquier county, and in 1829 went west to Clark county, Ohio, where they remained for five years, going from there to McLean county, Ill., where John died about 1844, and was buried at Funk's Grove. At the time of their marriage Gowen Adams kept a hotel between Brentsville and Dumfries. John Goodwin served in the war of 1812. He was a stern, reserved man, of retiring disposition, and never talked with his children about his ancestry. Elizabeth (Adams) Goodwin died in LaFayette county, Mo., in 1864. Children: i. APPENDIX H.

THE GOODWINS OF BOTETOURT AND TAZEWELL COUNTIES, VIRGINIA.

It is possible that the name of the earliest given ancestor may not be JOHN as stated, and it is suggested that the list of children may not be complete, and that Daniel, the ancestor mentioned in Appendix J, may have been another son. Daniel lived in Botetourt county, and his son John resided in Tazewell county. Thomas, the son of Micajah, resided in Tazewell county before his marriage and removed to Botetourt county.

Granting that John is the correct name, these facts appear: Thomas, second son of Micajah, was born in 1775; and we can approximate the birth of Micajah as 1740–'50, and that of his father John about 1710–'15. The only John of about that date appears to be the John Goodwin who married Jane, and had Robert in 1732, and Jane in 1735. This John was a brother to George Goodwin and, if our surmise is correct, had a son George. The names (Daniel, suggested as a son of this John, named a son John) and dates harmonize with these suggestions. George and John Goodwin are sons of John and Mary (Elliott) Goodwin, supposed to be son of Robert, eldest son of Major James Goodwin. This line is, therefore, presented for consideration; the doubtful links in italics. See also Appendix Y.

Perhaps this John[4] and the following John[4] was the same man.

John Goodwin[4] was born in Virginia; was married and resided in that State. The name of the father and the list of children is given on the authority of Miss Emily Virginia Goodwin, of Louisville, Ky., (granddaughter of Micajah and of John). Children: i. Micajah, married Elizabeth Buford; ii. John, married Mary Johnston; iii. Richard (see Appendix X); iv. George, see Appendix I; v. Nelson.

Micajah Goodwin (John) was born in Virginia; was married in Amherst county, Va., to Elizabeth Buford, who was born in Amherst county. Micajah and Richard Goodwin, of Nelson, now Amherst county, were ordered into service in 1781, under John Pope, to join the army commanded by General LaFayette. (Copied from an old muster roll in Hardesty's Encyclopædia.) Children:

i. Cornelius, married Hannah Paxton; ii. Thomas, born 1775, married Martha Reed; iii. James, probably died unmarried*; iv. Virginia, died unmarried; v. Daughter, married Mitchell; vi. John Lipscomb Lynch, born 1793, married Mary E. Goodwin; vii. Daughter, married White.

James E. Goodwin was a farmer, a Democrat, and a Presbyterian. His wife died in 1851. He died in Woodford county in 1875. He had a gourd, carried by his grandfather Micajah through the Revolutionary War. It had name, date, and purpose cut on it. Mr. Goodwin presented it to the public library in Louisville, but it seems to have been stolen. Children: i. Fannie, born January 25, 1842, married B. W. Thompson, and resides in Versailles, Ky.; ii. Mary Hannah, born August 20, 1844; iii. Anne Belle, born 1846; iv. William, born 1851.

Thomas Goodwin (Micajah, John) was born in 1775 in Virginia; was married in 1803 to Martha Reed. By occupation he was a farmer, and in religion a Methodist. They resided near Saltpetre Cave postoffice, Botetourt county. Thomas Goodwin died about 1830, and his wife shortly thereafter. He is said to have lived in Tazewell county before his marriage. Children: i. John, born 1805, married Ellen Ritchie; ii. Mary, born 1818, married Edward Barry.

John Goodwin (Thomas, Micajah, John) was born in 1805, in Botetourt county; was married in 1826, in Botetourt county, to Ellen Ritchie, who was born in 1804, in Botetourt county, a daughter of Robert and Isabella (Ripley) Ritchie. By occupation he was a farmer, in politics a Republican, and in religion a Methodist. They resided near Saltpetre Cave postoffice, where John

*James Goodwin had a bounty claim or land warrant for one hundred and sixty acres of land near Little Rock, Ark. After his death his brother, John L. L., placed it in the hands of a man to take to Washington, and neither man nor claim was heard of afterward. The bounty was for services in some war, probably 1812.

Goodwin died June 21, 1871. His wife died May 10, 1875. Before the late war John Goodwin frequently corresponded with a Mr. Goodwin, a "cousin," who resided in Georgia. This Georgia branch has not been identified, and all trace seems lost for the present. See Appendix X. Children: i. Harriet; ii. Mary T.; iii. Wilbur F., married Lucy C. Payne; iv. Etta B., resides at Saltpetre Cave; unmarried.

Wilbur F. Goodwin (John, Thomas, Micajah, John) was born June 15, 1844, in Botetourt county; was married in 1868 in Botetourt county, by Rev. Andrew Hart, to Lucy C. Payne, who was born in 1842 in Alleghany county, Va., a daughter of Charles and Frances (Pitzer) Payne. By occupation he was a farmer, in politics a Democrat. INDIANA'S SQUARED CIRCLE.

All about the Method Formally Approved in the Legislature. It Substitutes the Ratio 3.2 for the Time-Honored 3.1416*—but Prudent People will be Likely to Stick to the Old Figures.*

[From the Indianapolis Journal.]

Official recognition by one branch of the Indiana Legislature has been given Dr. Edward Johnston Goodwin for solving three geometrical problems which have puzzled the brains of mathematicians since the erection of the pyramids of Egypt, and which the French Academy of Science, in 1775, and the Royal Society of Great Britain, in 1776, both declared impossible of solution. The first and most important of these problems is what has been popularly termed for centuries the squaring of the circle, or, in science, the quadrature of the circle. The other two problems solved by Dr. Goodwin are known in mathematics as trisection of the angle and the duplication of the cube.

The solution of these problems is a matter of little interest to the average citizen, but to science the worth of these solutions cannot be estimated in money. To the development of astronomical science their value is incalculable. The mystery surrounding the supposed impossibility of these problems has ever inspired both cranks and mathematicians to unceasing toil in their search for the correct formulas. Squaring the circle has been a chimera as vague as perpetual motion, and it was because of the worry and waste of time in examining the many alleged solutions presented by would-be discoverers of the key to squaring the circle that the French and English societies, over a hundred years ago, decided that the problem was impossible, and refused to consider the subject further. This action was supposed to settle for all time the fact that the decimal 3.1416 plus (Pi), multiplied by the diameter of a circle, would give the circumference. It was always known that this decimal was not the correct multiple, but it was taken so nearly accurate that it would serve for all purposes, and the mathematicians let it go at that.

Dr. Goodwin discovered the formula for squaring the circle eight years ago, but not until the World's Fair did he make any effort to get his discovery before the world. He secured space in the Liberal Arts building for hanging his charts, and intended to be present and make his demonstration to those visiting the educational exhibit, but Selim H. Peabody, chief of the department, after granting the space, revoked his permit, and advised the author to present his solution to the mathematical journals. Dr. Goodwin then sent his solution to the American Mathematical Journal, the highest authority in this country, and the editor instantly accepted it and printed it in the September number, 1893, while the World's Fair was in progress. It attracted the attention of mathematicians the world over, the scientific journals at Paris at once communicating with the author for original contributions to their papers.

Dr. Goodwin has his formulas and laws derived from them copyrighted in the United States and in seven countries of Europe—England, Germany, Belgium, France, Austria, Italy, and Spain. During his visit to Washington he won the support of the professors at the National Astronomical Observatory, at the head of which is the celebrated Professor Hall, whose fame is secure with the discovery of the moons of Mars. Dr. Goodwin's demonstration was accepted by all at the observatory. The venerable author has a deskful of letters from mathematicians at the leading colleges in America, and better than all, a letter from his agent in London showing that his demonstration was presented to both Huxley and Tyndall, and endorsed by them before it was copyrighted.

The man who has thus shown the errors in the text-books from Euclid's time to Loomis is a native of Virginia, where he was born near Lynchburg, December 30, 1828. A wealthy aunt sent him to school, and furnished the funds for a course at the Philadelphia Medical College. For forty years he has been a practicing physician in the vicinity of Solitude, Posey county, Ind., that densely rural part of the State referred to by the humorists as Hooppole Township. He is a most modest citizen, refusing all modern methods of advertising himself. He is six feet tall and his frame is strong and elastic, and his massive, angular head correctly suggests his rugged mathematical brain.

The laws for the quadrature of the circle discovered by Dr. Goodwin, which are copyrighted, and which he permits the use of for the first time in any newspaper, are as follows:

"To quadrate the circle is to find the side of a square whose perimeter equals that of the given circle; rectification of the circle requires to find a right line equal to the circumference of the given circle. The square on the line equal to the arc of 90 degrees fulfils both of the said requirements.

"It is impossible to quadrate the circle by taking the diameter as the linear unit, because the square root of the product of the diameter by the quadrant of the circumference produces the side of a square which equals 9 when the quadrant equals 8. It is not mathematically consistent that it should take the side of a square whose perimeter equals that of a greater circle to measure the space contained within the limits of a less circle. Were this true, it would require a piece of tire iron eighteen feet to bind a wagon wheel sixteen feet in circumference.

"This new measure of the circle has happily brought to life the ratio of the chord and arc of 90 degrees, which is as 7:8, and also the ratio of the diagonal and one side of a square, which is as 10:7. These two ratios show the numerical relation of diameter to circumference to be as $1\frac{1}{4}:4$.

"Authorities will please note that while the finite ratio ($1\frac{1}{4}:4$) represents the area of the circle to be more than the orthodox ratio, yet the ratio (3.1416) represents the area of a circle whose circumference equals 4 plus 2 per cent. greater than the finite ratio $1\frac{1}{4}:4$, as will be seen by comparing the terms of their respective proportions stated as follows: 1:3.20 :: 1.25:4—1:3.1416 :: 1.1732:4.

"It will be observed that the product of the extremes is equal to the product of the means in the first statement, while they fail to agree in the second proportion. Furthermore, the square on a line equal to the arc of 90 degrees shows very clearly that the ratio of the circle is the same in principle as that of the square. For example, if we multiply the perimeter of a square (the sum of its sides) by one-fourth of one side, the product equals the sum of two sides, by one-half of one side which equals the square on one side. Again, the number required to express the units of length in one-fourth of a right line is the square root of the number representing the squares of the linear unit bounded by it in the form of a square whose ratio is as 1:4.

"These properties of the ratio of the square apply to the circle without an exception, as is further sustained by the following formula to express the numerical measure of both circles and square: Let C represent the circumference of a circle whose quadrant is unity, $Q\frac{1}{2}$ the quadrant, and CQ2 will apply as the numerical measure of a circle and a square.

"The following facts may be set down as showing that the diameter is the wrong factor to employ as the line on which to measure in squares the linear unit. The square on the diameter is the mean proportional between the circle's circumference and the square circumscribing it. The square of the quadrant of the circumference is the mean proportional between the circle's inscribed square and the square on the diameter as the linear unit. Therefore, the product of the diameter by one side of the inscribed square produces a line that is greater than the circle's circumference; that is to say, by taking the diameter as the linear unit in computing the area of the square, we can make its area about 43 per cent. greater than the fact. This is because there is about 43 per cent. of the diagonal not represented four times in the square's perimeter. Another reason that the diameter should be discarded as the wrong factor to employ as the linear unit is because it fails to work both ways, and, therefore, is not mathematically trustworthy.

"For instance, the circle whose circumference equals 32, the diameter is 10.1856 plus, according to the ratio 1:3.1416 plus, and the area is 81.4848 plus. The square root of 81.4848 plus is 9.0265 plus. Now, let us multiply the diameter 10.1856 plus by the square root to see if the product equals 81.4848 plus, which it should do if the diameter is the proper lineal unit: 10.1856 by 9.0265 plus equals 91.9392 plus. It will be found by extracting the square root of 91.9392 plus and multiplying the diameter, 10.1856 plus, by it, and repeating the procedure often enough, the resultant will be the side of the square circumscribing the circle. The same result is obtained by employing the diagonal of a square as the linear unit, instead of one side.

"The fact that the square on a line equal to the arc of 90 degrees fulfils the requirements of both quadrature and rectification of the circle's circumference leaves no margin to doubt the validity of the quadrant of the circumference being the true factor to take as the linear unit in computing the area of a circle.

"The above data show very clearly that when the circle's area is computed on the diameter as the linear unit, it is one-fifth greater than the area of a square of equal perimeter. This is because there is 25 per cent. of the diameter not represented four times in the circumference. Therefore, the area of a circle is to the square on one-fourth of its circumference as the area of an equilateral rectangle is to the square on one side.

"We are now able to get the true finite dimensions of a circle by the exact ratio of $1\frac{1}{4}$:4, and have simply to divide the circumference by four and square the quotient to complete the area. Thus this new truth in mathematical progress carries us above and beyond the curious necessity of having to teach that the finite is one with the infinite, or that to one finite there is a multiplicity of infinites."

When the bill was recently introduced in the Indiana Legislature for the purpose of recognizing Dr. Goodwin's solution, it was taken as a huge joke by Speaker Pettit, a graduate of Annapolis Naval Academy, and was referred to the Committee on Swamp Lands. Two days later Dr. Goodwin had a hearing before State Superintendent Geeting and the Educational Committee, who at once endorsed the solution, called up the bill, and it passed the House under a suspension of the rules, without a negative vote. Professors from Ann Arbor and Johns Hopkins have seen the demonstration, and declared it perfect.

APPENDIX K.

THE GOODWYNS OF DINWIDDIE COUNTY, VIRGINIA.

Two branches of this family have been found, one descending from Thomas Goodwyn, through his son Joseph. Joseph's son, Col. Peterson Goodwyn, is said to have used on his silver the same coat-of-arms as belonged to Major James Goodwin. This would indicate a connection with Major James, but the following should be noted: Joseph Goodwyn married Miss Peterson, of the Isle of Wight county family, and Col. Peterson Goodwyn's wife was also one of this family, and a blood relative. Joseph Godwin had land grants in Isle of Wight county in 1723 and 1746, and a Thomas Godwin, Jr., also had land grants in the same county in 1746. These Godwins were the descendants of Thomas Godwin and Richard Godwin, brothers, sons of Thomas(?) Godwin. Whether they are the Thomas and Joseph Goodwyn of Dinwiddie county remains to be determined.

The second branch of the Dinwiddie Goodwyns descends through Robert, said to have been a brother of Thomas; but as Robert and Joseph, son of Thomas, had grandchildren in 1776, Robert would be too young a man to be the brother to Thomas, Joseph's father. As some of the descendants of Joseph have given him a brother named Thomas, it perhaps will appear that Thomas, Sen., was the father of Joseph, Thomas and Robert, and that Thomas, Jr., was the father of Lieut. Dinwiddie Goodwyn. Both branches claim Lieut. Dinwiddie, and Capt. Armistead Goodwyn's grandson says that his grandfather, son of Robert, and Lieut. Dinwiddie were first cousins, and that Robert had a brother Thomas. Harwood Goodwin and John Goodwin had land grants in Dinwiddie county in 1759–'60, and they may have been other brothers of Joseph and Robert. It has been impossible to obtain replies from any of Robert Goodwyn's descendants, excepting two.

Capt. Robert Armistead Goodwyn says that he was brought up by his aunt Fannie, born in 1775, and she stated to him that her father,

Capt. Armistead, had told her that his grandfather Goodwyn had a Swiss woman for a wife, having bought her for 150 pounds of tobacco, and that she was possessed of considerable musical ability, which was very generally inherited by her descendants. The name of Robert's father, husband of the Swiss woman, she gave as Sir Francis Arthur Goodwin. Sir Francis Goodwin was in Virginia in 1620, and died in England about 1633, leaving a son, Arthur, who married, but left no male issue. Sir Francis had another son, but the male line of this family seems to be extinct. The date of Robert's birth was around 1725, nearly one hundred years after the death of Sir Francis.

Thomas Goodwyn was born in Virginia. He resided in Dinwiddie county, and is said to have been a grandson of Major James. (Mrs. Grigg's grandfather thinks so.) Thomas Goodwyn had land grants for 71 and 80 acres in Dinwiddie county, April 28, 1748. A Thomas Goodwin also had land grant of 100 acres in Sussex county, August 15, 1764. Harwood and John Goodwin had land grants in Dinwiddie county in 1759 and 1760. Children: i. Joseph, married ——— Peterson; ii. Thomas (perhaps); iii. Robert (perhaps); iv. Harwood (perhaps); vi. John (perhaps).

Joseph Goodwyn (Thomas) was born in Virginia; was married to Miss ——— Peterson, who was born in Isle of Wight county. By occupation he was a planter. They resided at "The Martins," in Dinwiddie county, the old home place still standing. Children: i. John* (disputed); ii. Joseph, married Mary Coleman; iii. Braddock, married Elizabeth Brown; iv. Esau, married S. Sturdivant; v. Peterson, married Elizabeth Peterson; vi. Burwell* (disputed), untraced. Peterson and Joseph, Jr., were twins.

John Goodwyn† (Joseph, Thomas) was born in Dinwiddie county, where he married, resided and died. Children; i. John, married Elizabeth Fowler; ii. Burwell, born in 1793; iii. Daughter, married ——— Rives; iv. Daughter, married ——— King.

John Goodwyn (John, Joseph, Thomas) was born in Dinwiddie county; was married to Elizabeth Fowler. By occupation he was a planter. They resided in Dinwiddie county. Children: i. Ann

* It is strongly denied that Joseph[2] was the father of John and Burwell. It is said that Joseph's brother was their father. That would indicate a John or Harwood.

† It is disputed that John and Burwell were sons of Joseph, and it is said they are sons of a brother of Joseph—perhaps of the John Goodwin who had land grant in Dinwiddie county.

Eliza, born March, 1823; unmarried; ii. Timoleon W., born June, 1825; unmarried; iii. Emma Virginia, born September 17, 1827; unmarried; iv. John William, born July 17, 1829; married Minerva S. Johnson.

Gibson, to Minerva Stith Johnson, who was born July 19, 1833, in Dinwiddie county, a daughter of Edward and Minerva Stith (Maclin) Johnson. By occupation he was a druggist, in politics a Whig and Democrat, and in religion an Episcopalian. They reside in Macon, Ga. (1897). Artope.

Burwell Goodwyn (John, Joseph, Thomas) was born 1793 in Dinwiddie county; was married, and resided in Dinwiddie county. In 1896–'97, while repairing a house in Petersburg, which had belonged to a lawyer long since dead, but who had, in his life-time, managed the estate of a Robert Goodwyn, an Ancient History was found, on one page of which was written, "Burwell Goodwyn, born 1793." Children: i. Archer, resides at Ream's Station, Va.; ii. McClure.

APPENDIX X.

THE GOODWINS OF PREBLE COUNTY, OHIO.

Although Scotland is claimed as the birthplace of Richard Goodwin, the ancestor of this family, it must be noted that the only Richard Goodwin, so far as now known, who lived in Virginia and served in the Revolutionary War, was Richard, brother to Micajah, John, Nelson and George Goodwin. (See Appendix H.) The descendants of both Micajah and of a George Goodwin, supposed to be this George, had relatives in the Carolinas. This Richard lived for some years in North Carolina. Later data may confirm the connection between Micajah, Richard and George, and may show that Nelson, the only one wholly untraced, settled in South Carolina or Alabama, there being a large family of Goodwins in the latter State who have not responded to any inquiry.

The given names in this family are utterly dissimilar to those used by the Virginia Goodwins, but are in common use among the Goodwins of York county, Maine—i. e., Miles, Stephen, Nathan, Jonathan, Didema and Richard.

Richard Goodwin was born in Scotland, according to one account, but removed to Virginia, where he served in the Revolutionary War. He married, removed to North Carolina, and then to Eaton, Preble county, Ohio, where he died. Children: i. Nathan, married Nancy Arlington: ii. William, untraced; iii. Joseph, untraced; iv. Timothy Goodwin (James), born in 1823 in Preble county, Ohio, was married in Preble county to Sarah Parish, born in 1834 in Preble county, a daughter of William and Anna (——) Parish. E., born 1859, married Miranda Skinner, and resides (1897) in Cowan, Delaware county, Indiana.

APPENDIX Y.

PROBABLE DESCENDANTS OF ROBERT GOODWIN.

Robert Goodwin, eldest son of Major James, left several children. One was Martin, who died sine prole. It is thought that perhaps many of the fragmentary Goodwin families in Virginia and Maryland descend from children of this Robert, unknown at present. A Robert Goodwin was patron of a York county school in 1711, and another Robert Goodwin was born in York county in 1703. It seems probable that the following may be a partial list of children in this family:

Robert Goodwin (James) married Anne ——. (See page 7.) Children: i. Martin, d. s. p.; ii. Robert; iii. John.

Robert Goodwin (Robert, James) was probably the patron of the school in 1711, and father of Robert, born in 1703.

The will of Samuel Hill, of York county, proved February 10, 1770, mentions Rebecca, daughter of Mr. Robert Goodwin, and gives to Anne Goodwin "my late wife's part of the estate of her deceased father, Mr. Robert Goodwin." These fragments, taken with the data of a John Goodwin given herewith, presumably a son of Robert first, show that a considerable family of Goodwins was living around York county, and, with reasonable certainty, it may be claimed that Major James was its ancestor. Reference may also be had in this connection to Appendix H.

John Goodwin (probably Robert, James) was married, April 22, 1705, in Christ Church parish, Middlesex county, Va., to Mary Elliot. Mary (Elliot) Goodwin died November 24, 1734. Children: i. George, married, first, Jane Haselwood; second, Elizabeth Warwick; ii. John, married Jane ———.

George Goodwin (John, Robert, James) was married, first, August 14, 1729, at Christ Church, Middlesex county, Va., to Jane Haselwood, who died January 28, 173⅞. George Goodwin married, second, June 15, 1738, at Christ Church, Elizabeth Warwick. Children by first wife: i. Robert, born July 23, 1730; died September 26, 1730; ii. George, born October 12, 1734; untraced.

John Goodwin (John, Robert, James) was married to Jane ———. Children: i. Robert, born December 30, 1732; ii. Jane, born February 27, 1735; both untraced.

APPENDIX W.

ADDITIONAL MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

On page 127, at the end of Appendix W., appears the name of Theophilus Goodwin, born in North Carolina and residing in 1818 in Alabama. It has long been known to the compiler of these records that a large Goodwin family was living in Alabama, but the most persistent requests for information remained unanswered until Mrs. Turner Myrick Goodwin, of Maplesville, Ala., was written to, and from her, from Mrs. Nettie Goodwin Crossland, of East Lake, from Mrs. Gertrude G. Stewart and Col. John W. Portis, all of the following data has been obtained.

One account is that this family was living in North Carolina about 1725–'50; that the name of the first ancestor is not now known; that he was twice married, and had by his first wife one son, name unknown, and another son named Young, and a son David by his second wife. The unknown son was the father of Theophilus, born in 1744, and Theophilus, with his uncles, Young and David, they being about his own age, or perhaps David was even younger, went South through South Carolina and Georgia to Alabama. Theophilus married Rebecca Bledsoe, and a daughter Sarah, born in 1803, and who is still living, but from whom no reply has been received, stated years ago that Young Goodwin was her father's own uncle and her mother's own cousin.

Another account, and apparently the more nearly correct, although it does not explain or conform to the statement of Sarah, daughter of Theophilus, is as follows:

——— Goodwin resided in Virginia, and had at least two sons: i. ——— married ———, and was the father of Theophilus; ii. Samuel married ———.

——— Goodwin resided in North Carolina, married and had child (perhaps others): Theophilus, born in 1744, married Rebecca Bledsoe.

NOTES

ON THE YORK COUNTY, VIRGINIA, GOODWINS.

BY THE EDITOR.

It appears to be the popular belief that Virginia was settled by the emigrants who came with John Smith. But, as a matter of fact, a large majority of all who arrived previous to the Indian massacre of 1622 died from exposure, disease, or massacre. The real settlement of Virginia occurred during the civil wars in England. The majority of these were merchants and shipping people from the cities, who had little sympathy with the quarrels of either Puritans or Cavaliers, but who were interested in making money and securing comfortable homes. From this class came James Goodwin, of York county, descended from a line of merchants. While the tombstone of his first wife states that she had seven children, and while seven children survived their father, I am inclined to think that Robert and Martin were by the last wife, Blanche, as she mentions them in her will, and omits the other sons. The Robert, son of the first wife, probably died without issue. (See page 7.)

The connections of the Goodwins were highly respectable. The Moores, Mosses, Chismans, Reades, Robinsons, Tipladys, Beales, Nuttings, Calthorpes, Sheldons, etc., were all justices of the county, and three or more of their representatives were councillors of State.

Moores. This family begins with Augustine Moore about 1651. Augustine Moore owned Temple Farm at the surrender in 1781. (See article "Temple Farm," QUARTERLY, Vol. II., pp. 3–21.)

Mosses. This family begins with Edward Moss, and intermarried with all the leading families of the section. To a deed of his, the clerk affixes on the record a rough drawing of a shield, evidencing heraldic charges. Like the Goodwins, they were probably from London. (See letter of Richard Banckes, p. 142.)

Reades. James Goodwin married Mildred Reade, who was daughter of Robert Reade and Mary Lilly (daughter of John Lilly). Robert Reade was eldest son of Col. George Reade, once colonial Secretary for State of Virginia, and brother of Robert Reade, private secretary to his uncle, Sir Francis Windebank, Secretary of State to Charles I. The Reades traced far into English chronicles. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 9; Vol. III., pp. 29, 40, 50; Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, Vol. IV., p. 204.) George Washington, commander of the United States Army, and General Thomas Nelson, commander of the Virginia forces at the surrender at Yorktown, were alike descended from Col. George Reade. There were in York county contemporaries of Col. George Reade, Benjamin Reade, and Francis Reade, and in Warwick county, Thomas Reade. Benjamin and Thomas are called "kinsmen" of Col. George Reade, in the records. Thomas Reade married Elizabeth Tip-lady, sister of Captain John Tiplady, and had issue, Francis, who had Thomas, who had, probably, Thomas, of Elizabeth City county, father of Hawkins Reade, "cabinet maker and wheelright," who is connected with the Sheild, McCandlish, and Pescud Families. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. IV., p. 59.)

Chisman. Lieutenant-Colonel John Chisman, who came to Virginia in 1621, was one of the first settlers to take up land in York county. Chisman's Creek is named for him. He was a member of the Virginia Council. He returned to England and resided in the parish of St. Mary Magdalene, Bermondsea, county Surry. His brother, Edmund Chisman, remained behind, and his son, Major Edmund Chisman, was prominent in Bacon's Rebellion. The Virginia family is, however, descended from the second son, Captain Thomas Chisman, who married Elizabeth Reade, a daughter of Col. George Reade. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. I., pp. 89-99, for Chisman pedigree.)

Robinson. Mr. Hayden in his Virginia Genealogies gives an interesting pedigree of this family. One of Virginia's greatest lawyers was Conway Robinson, lately deceased.

Beale. (See page 9.) The family begins with Col. Thomas Beale, member of the Virginia Council, who was in York county as early as 1645. The late Gen. Richard Lee Turberville Beale, United States member of Congress and General in Confederate State's Army, was a descendant. For Beale, see QUARTERLY III., pp. 40, 65, 69; II., p. 25.

Nutting. Captain Thomas Nutting left no male descendants. His wife was Elizabeth Booth, daughter of William Booth, J. P., who was a son, I think, of Robert Booth, clerk of York county. For Booth, see QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 11, iv., p. 53; v., pp. 180, 266.

Calthorpe. This family began with Col. Christopher Calthorpe, who came to Virginia in 1622 He was son of Christopher Calthorpe, Esq., of Blakeney, in Norfolk county, England, who was a scion of one of the proudest families in England, being connected with Queen Elizabeth. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., pp. 106, et seq., for Calthorpe pedigree.)

Sheldon. Captain William Sheldon must have been a relation of Gilbert Sheldon, Esq., of London, who executed a power of attorney to him about lands in Virginia in 1715. This Gilbert was son and heir of Daniel Sheldon, Esq., who owned lands in Virginia, and married Judith, daughter of Sir John Chapman, and widow of Sir Maurice Digges. (See QUARTERLY, Vol. II., p. 8.)

It is believed that the following abstracts from the records will be of special interest, as they will enable the reader to verify in great part the work of Judge Goodwin. The assessor's books, for instance, seem to show that Peter Goodwin, who married Frances Chapman, or Toomer, was, indeed, son of Captain John Goodwin, son of Col. John Goodwin. (See page 9.) These books prove that the tract that Robert I. Williams now lives on, twelve hundred acres on south side of Back Creek, was assessed to Harold Goodwin, who was preceded (before 1833) by Peter Goodwin (whose wife was Frances), and that this Peter succeeded about 1785 Captain John Goodwin, deceased. There was another tract on the other side of Back Creek (being one hundred and seven acres) in Charles parish, which in 1782 was assessed to John Goodwin, from whom it came to Peter Goodwin (called Peter Goodwin, Sr.), who died about 1824, and was succeeded by his son, Peter R. Goodwin, who married Mahala, and had two children. A sister of this Peter R. Goodwin, Virginia E., married John Curtis.

ASSESSOR'S BOOKS.

York County, 1784.—107½ acres on the north side of Back Creek assessed to John Goodwin, deceased, and 1,200 acres on York River, Chesapeake Bay, and Back Creek assessed to John Goodwin.

1785.—The first tract to John Goodwin's estate, and the second to John Goodwin, deceased.

1798.—The first to Peter Goodwin, Sr., and the second to Peter Goodwin, Jr.

1824.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin's, Sen., estate, the second to Peter Goodwin, Jr.

1829.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin, Jr., and the second to Peter Goodwin, Sen.

1832.—The first tract to Peter Goodwin, Jr., and the latter to Peter Goodwin's, Sen., estate.

1833.—Harold Goodwin succeeds to the second tract.

NOTE.—The assessor's books explain the relationship between Peter Goodwin, Sr., who married Elizabeth ———, who died in 1831, and Peter Goodwin, Jr., who married Frances Chapman, or Toomer. On page 13 it is said that Peter Goodwin, of Charles parish, son of John Goodwin, "perhaps did not survive." This seems to be an error, as he was doubtless the Peter, Sr., who, dying in 1824, left one son, who became Peter, Jr., while Peter, Jr. (son of Capt. John Goodwin, of Yorkhampton parish, on the other side of Back Creek, the dividing line of the parishes), became Peter, Sr. Upon the death of this last Peter, about 1833, his son Harold inherited the twelve hundred acre tract. The following data should, therefore, have followed the paragraph devoted to John Goodwin on page 13.

Peter Goodwin, Sr. (John, Peter, Peter, James), married Elizabeth, and had issue: i. Peter R. Goodwin, who married Mahala ———; and ii. Virginia E., who married John Curtis.

Peter R. Goodwin (Peter, John, Peter, Peter, James), born in York county, Va., married Mahala, living in 1832. His will mentions wife Mahala and two children.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

It is but right and proper that acknowledgment should be made of the liberality of Mr. James J. Goodwin, of Hartford, Conn., without whose pecuniary assistance this publication would probably not have been made. A similar generous spirit on the part of Mr. Goodwin rendered possible the researches of Henry F. Waters in the English archives. Mr. Waters' "Gleanings" are published in the New England Historical and Genealogic Register, and are invaluable to those interested in old Virginia families. Judge John S. Goodwin puts it too strongly (on page 1) when he says of the English origin of the Goodwins of Connecticut that it has "so far eluded the most diligent search." In fact, much has been accomplished, though the information is not yet as precise as might be desired.

CORRECTIONS AND ADDITIONS.

PAGE 6.—In fifth line, for "swear to his father's will," read "qualify on his father's will."

PAGE 7.—Major James Goodwin seems to have had two children by his second wife, Robert and Martin, which would indicate the early death of Robert, the son by the first wife. Martin Goodwin married Barbara Rogers. See Dr. Tyler's notes.

PAGE 8.—Elizabeth Goodwin, here given, may not have been the Elizabeth Goodwin who was the ward of Albritton Wagstaffe. It may have been Elizabeth Goodwin (Martin, James) on page 58, who was the ward. In that event, the date of birth given on page 8 would not be the date of birth of that Elizabeth.

PAGE 9.—Peter Goodwin. Strike out the last two lines (in parenthesis), as Dr. Tyler's notes show the correctness of this line of descent.

PAGE 126.—Appendix V., add John Goodwin and Alice Spencer were married March y^e^ 21, 1738. Perhaps this is a second marriage of the John Goodwin mentioned on page 130, who married Mary Elliott, she dying November 24, 1734.

PAGE 130.—Appendix Y., Robert Goodwin appears from Dr. Tyler's notes not to have been the eldest son of Major James Goodwin, that Robert presumably having died, and this Robert being a son of the second marriage.
